Circumstances differ in their lives and both molded environment instead of being shaped The men were different, for their times differed, their triumphs and unconquering defeats differed, their opportunities differed, their cares differed, their duties differedall differed, save their claims to our unlimited devotion. Washington's work would have perished had not Lincoln been born to maintain it, and Lincoln would not have been great had not his illustrious antecedent given him a noble work to perpetu ate. Both corresponded to their high destinies. No palm has to be dis puted, for there are immortal chaplets for the two. Both were giants in their days-the one mighty temple to liberty; the other held it from collapse and ruin.

To know the value of Washington's labors, we would have to know the length of all time, for to its end their existence will be felt as force ful and salutary powers. Washing ton was father, counselor and affectionate friend to America. As a father he begot her greatness; as a counsellor he mapped the certain course of her perpetuity; as a friend he showed unselfish consideration that sought not its own ease no profit, but his country's life and Wonderful is the knowledge of conditions Washington displayed in his farewell address. Had Amer ica heeded his prophetic warnings she would not have made some sorry mistakes. Speaking of education "Whatever," said this wise seer 'may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of a peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle.' What Lacordaire said in his praise O'Connell is true of Washington: "Liberty is a work of virture, a holy work, and consequently an intellectual work." As a consequence Washington's life was pure, his labors gracious, his intellect clear in solutions of Cabinet and field questions.

loftiness of the elder Brutus, with the energy of a Julius Caesar and the decision of a Napoleon, Washington ascended his car of triumph that will ever musically rumble adown the sweeping avenue of Time. From his station, higher than Emperors', comes no forbidding cry of 'woe to the conquered!" He conducted no ruthless war of extermination, for he wielded not a butcher's axe, but a knife of sacrifice. With piety he invoked the God of battles, and in humility he fled from glory Mt. Vernon's gentle shades. He led his nation to security, peace and prosperity before he returned to its scabbard his brave and heavenfavored sword.

LEGISLATURE

Idling Valuable Time With the Hypocritical Prohibition Measures.

Fanatical Preachers and Political Schemers Dictating Votes of Dupes.

The Dry Representatives in Legislature Mediocre Set of Law Makers.

HALY AND PALMER COMBINATION

The daily farce is still being played at Frankfort, especially in the lower house of the General Assembly, where the much mooted question of prohibition bobs up daily in one form or another, serving to block the wheels of legislation, which means much to the taxpayers who are footing the bills.

A day's visit during the present session leaves one with the wish that every voter in Kentucky could at least witness one day's proceed-ings of the General Assembly and a view of the Capitol corridors and Frankfort's hotel lobbies. If this were possible the voters would rise en masse and crush forever the hypocritical crowd who are sponsible for the present situation. To begin with, you will observe the leaders of the dry movement in the gallery and about the corridors while in session, for the most part being composed of fanatical looking preachers who are reaping golden harvest with campaign, knowing liquor that aside from their present vocation they wouldn't be able to command more than a bare livelihood in some obscure country parsonage. The next noticeable feature is their dupes on the floor, who have been elected from a district dry in name only, but where innumerable blind tigers flourish. These men come to the Legislature with but one thought uppermost in their mind, and that is to vote dry on every measure, their thoughts morning, night and noon being on the liquor question, and have neither the time or inclination to even consider discuss measures of interest to the people of the whole State.

In a visit to Frankfort the other day a Kentucky Irish American representative was struck with the general weak appearance of the dry

advocates in the lower house, where the liquor question is being agitated Not satisfied with voting against the liberal men, whom they style as "wets," they have now begun to quarrel among themselves as to whom is the most rabid in his advocacy of prohibition, the fight on the floor last week being between two of the dry men, the outcome of which has deadlocked the Legislature and is bringing in resolutions daily from cliques of Baptist preachers backing one or the other. Hardly a day passes without one of the dupes on the floor asking a question of per-sonal privilege to tell why he is a staunch advocate of prohibition, and wants a special record of his vote made to show the folks "back This same hum.' legislator in most cases is not intelligent enough to draft a bill and in all probability was sent to the Legislature in preference to some intelligent man, too of the fanatics who controlled the church and hypocrite vote in his district. More than 150 of the 400 guests SOCIETY at the first official banquet given in honor of Chicago's new Archwith a Mascot Bat. bishop, the Most Rev. George William Mundelein, formerly of Brook-Win The Game With a lyn, at the University Club, were taken ill with ptomaine poisoning Come down to the factory 12th & Ormsby and have a bat made the guests rushed out. Others followed, and for the next half hour Dr. John B. Murphy, Dr. L. L. Mc-Arthur and Dr. Hugh McKenna were busy administering emetics. The emetics immediately relieved hem," says a statement drawn up by the three physicians, "and practically all returned to the banquet

The day following samples of the soup were analyzed by Chicago chemists and violent poison was found therein. The discovery, coupled with the disappearance of a kitchen employe of the club named Crones and the finding of similar poison in a private lab oratory in his room, together with literature classed as anarchistic, led the police to believe that the illness which overcame the diners was the result of a deliberate attempt to poison the guests. Police all over the country are looking for the culprit, who has not yet been apprehended. In the Crones had occupied the police say they found many volumes by anarchistic authors, explosives and weapons, in addition to the poison vials. He was said by the police to have come to Chicago from St. Louis and his description was sent to various cities.

Among the guests at the banquet who were affected by the poison were prelates, Judges, bankers, repesentative business men and manu facturers prominent in the affairs of city and nation, all of whom have

HOLY HOUR.

The Rev. Father Eugene P Donohoe, the pastor, has instituted OFRIFI the Holy Hour at St. Paul's church, Jackson and Kentucky, the services being held Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. Thus far the attendance has been very gratifying and much interest characterizes the congregational singing. Donohoe has under instruction a class of nearly 100, who will receive their first holy communion shortly after Easter.

DOUBLE MEETING.

The Catholic Knights of America held a double meeting at St. John's Hall, Clay and Walnut, on Friday night of last week, every branch in the city being represented by its officers. The first session was held by the Central Committee, with President Ben Kruse occupying the chair. Several communicatons were lead and action taken and reports were made that additional applications for membership had filed, some for the ladies' branch President Kruse named the standing committees for the year and dispatched the business, when the hair was turned over to John B. Stickler, who called the officers to-gether for the selection of medical examiners for the order. Four names were presented and each was chosen unanimously. They were Dr. William B. Doherty, Dr. Thomas H. Mulvey, Dr. B. J. Lammers and Dr. Henry Rapp, who will be confirmed by the Supreme Council.

SUBDEACONSHIP.

Right Rev. Bishop Chartrand, of ndianapolis, conferred subdeaconhip last Saturday on James Maloney and Edward Menke, seminarians for the Louisville diocese at St. Meinad's Seminary.

Agair the Knights welcomed it. They knew the Catholic press is for them. If coistrained to find fault or to point out error it was in a spirit of genume fraternal correction. No worl of such a monumental character sould be perfectly organized on the noment. Only experience could point the way. This great Catholic block of American gentlemen should point the way. This great Catholic body of American gentlemen should receife the united and loyal support of every one who wants to see his church take her proper place in American life. It is a work of zeal and charity and patriotism. It is worthy of the grand traditions of the Knights of Columbus.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Louisville Railway Company Directors Hear Reports and Elect Officers.

The Louisville Railway Company held its annual meeting Wednesday, hearing reports and re-electing the old directors and officers. Reading of President Minary's report was the feature of the meeting. The biggest improvements of the year were the building of the Madison street line and double tracking of West Market street. The officers are T. J. Minary, President and General Manager; A. P. The year 1915 has been the most trying year in the history of the company, the general business depression which commenced in 1914 continued through the whole of the year 1915, and to this the competition of jitneys and private automobiles caused a heavy decrease in the gross earnings, as shown in the figures above.

No extensive improvements were un-

No extensive improvements were undertaken during the year, but the time of the management was devoted to necessary economy and fortunately we were able to show very satisfactory results in that direction, and at the same time maintain the property in a high state of efficiency.

Notes.—On July 1, the railway company sold to financial institutions of the city $600,000 three-year 5 per cent collateral trust notes, the proceeds of which were used to pay the floating debt incurred for improvements prior to 1915.

Safety First.—The Safety-First idea

Safety First.—The Safety-First idea was followed up very closely and the employes are all to be commended for the interest shown in the movement, for by their concerted efforts a very large decrease in the number of accidents was a result of the year's work. Interurban Lines.—The interurban lines were maintained in first-class condition and numerous improvements of a smaller nature were made during the year.

smaller nature were made during the year.

Tracks.—The tracks for the extension of the Twenty-seventh and West Madison-street line were laid as the work of building the new street by the city pnogressed and about 75 per cent. on the work of this line is now completed. The line will be finished and ready for operation in the early spring. The city paved Market street from Thirty-fifth to Fontaine Ferry and the old track was torn up and new double track constructed at a heavy expense to this company. Many other improvements of a smaller nature were made the detail of which can be seen in a report of the Secretary presented at this meeting. Respectfully submitted to the Board of Directors, by

T. J. MINARY,

President.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The Rev. John Quigley, Gorey, has been appointed to the pastoral charge of Tagoat.

The priests and people of Cootehill have decided upon the erection of a new Catholic church for the town and district. Miss Josephine Kavanagh, Clon-ard, has been appointed clerk of the County Meath Insurance Committee at a salary of $350 per year. The death of Bartholomew Candon at the residence of his uncle, Patrick Wallace, Carrick-on-Shannon has caused widespread regret. D. Hyland, Chairman of the Waterford Board of Guardians, has been appointed to the Commission of the Peace for the city of Waterford. M. Healy, owing to failing health, has resigned the Clerkship of Killarney Urban Council, a position which he has held for thirty years. The late Lady Edith Lowry Corry, of Castle Coole, Enniskillen, who was accidentally drowned last Oc- ment; sale price, per yard Blanket; size 75x88; good qualtober, left personal estate valued at $21.155.

The death occurred thomas of Mrs. Ryan, a centenarian. Some of the men engaged in the battle of Carrickshock found refuge in

At the Monaghan Quarter Sessions, Judge Johnston was presented with a pair of white gloves. The Judge said he had also received white gloves at Castleblayney. The death in Galway has occurred of Mrs. Bessie Kirwan, widow of the late Peter Kirwan. She lived in Lynch's Castle and was herself connected with two of the Galway tribes. Rev. Michael Donnellon, The Mountbellew, has been appointed by the Archbishop of Tuam to the pastoral charge of Roundstone, in succession to the late lamented Father Gleeson.

At a recent meeting of the Kells Urban Council a resolution passed protesting against the withdrawal of grants for teachers of Irish classes under the department's programme.

The Rev. P. J. Kelly, Glendermott and the Rev. T. J. Agnew, Buncrana, who until recently were curates in Dungiven, were entertained at dinner at the City Hotel, Derry, by their former parishioners

Rev. Mother Cecilia M. McArdle has passed away at the Ardee Concessor in the Mayoralty.

The death has taken place of P Quinn, one of the veterans of the famous Ballycohey struggle. He took a prominent part in resisting the police attack on the house of John Dwyer, in which Constable Morrow made a dash to enter the premises and as the result of a musketry and pistol charge lost his life.

MOVABLE ALTARS WANTED. The missionary mass outfit that has proven the substitute for altars in many missions of this country is a great boon to the missionaries There are many priests who, in addition to all the other hardships which mission life gives gratis, have to lug from one place to another the articles necessary for the celebration of the holy sacrifice of the mass. To forget one essential means a great hardship for a missionary. It is therefore no wonder that many of them are writing in to the offices of the Catholic Church Extension Division 1, A. O. H., held its regular meeting on Thursday night of last week, the business transacted being only of routine character and unimportant. President Mark Ryan occupied the chair and Secretary Daniel McCarthy read the communications, one from the State Secretary. Michael Collins, who was on the sick list, was reported on the road recovery. The County Board notified the division of its approval of the action taken relative to sick benefits. Division 1 will meet again the first provided in the McCormick building. Chicago.
